Weather Probabilities.

For this section partly cloudy and cooler to night. Thursday fair, light to fresh north-westerly winds.

THE ELECTION YESTERDAY.

Yesterday's election, as had been anticipated, resulted in a virtual walk-over for the democratic candidates. Mr. C. O. Carlin for Congress, Mr. R. E. Thornton for the State Senate, and Mr. James R. Caton for the House of Delegates, were elected by large majorities, so large that the opposition to these gentlemen was simply quiescent. There was a large turnout of democratic voters, although the opposition was generally looked upon with mirth. This was in contrast to some places in Virginia, where apathy is said to have been in evidence.

Early in the night many people appeared on the streets for the purpose of ascertaining the result of the balloting. None, however, was anxious, but all were animated by curiosity to learn the depth of the snowunder. The returns were soon posted, and they caused laughter rather than hurrahs.

The following tabulated statement is the result, by precincts, of yesterday's vote in this city:

CAND. DATES.	First Ward.	Second Ward.	Third Ward.	Fourth Ward.
FOR CONGRESS.
C. O. Carlin	359	317	258	228
E. L. Howard	16	6	15	5
STATE SENATE.
R. E. Thornton	245	304	253	218
J. C. DePatron	23	17	15	14
HOUSE OF DELEGATES.
James R. Caton	211	275	241	185
Frank T. Evans	45	45	21	52
W. C. Coleman	2	1	1	1

DEFECTIVE BALLOTS.

The following ballots were thrown out:

First Ward	13
Second Ward	10
Third Ward	8
Fourth Ward	9

Total..... 40

The total vote cast in yesterday's election was 1,097 of which Mr. C. O. Carlin received 1,062; Mr. Caton, 912; and Mr. Thornton, 1,023.

The following is the vote by wards:

First Ward	242
Second Ward	302
Third Ward	281
Fourth Ward	242

Total..... 1,067

QUESTION OF PARENTAGE.

Through the efforts of Capt. Williams, of Washington, the parentage of Emma Vance Hulse, of this city, which for the last few days has been somewhat in dispute, was yesterday definitely determined. Miss Hulse is the daughter of Mrs. E. V. Griffin. When the girl was arrested, both Mrs. Griffin, of 123 South Pitt street, Alexandria, and Mrs. Eessie Bayne, of 423 Four-and-a-half street southwest Washington, claimed her as daughter. Mrs. Bayne is a daughter of Mrs. Griffin. Mrs. Bayne, it is said, admitted that she was not the girl's mother.

Miss Hulse was arrested in Washington Monday afternoon at the request of Mrs. Griffin, who informed Capt. Williams that she was the girl's mother, and had discovered that her daughter and son were not employed at a Washington luncheon room, as she had supposed. Mrs. Bayne appeared at the station and insisted that she was really the girl's mother.

Yesterday Mrs. Bayne and Mrs. Griffin accompanied by their respective adherents, met at the station and held a council. Capt. Williams listened to both sides, and finally demanded that proofs be submitted. Mrs. Griffin exhibited a certificate from the physician, who was present at the time of the child's birth, and her contention was substantiated by her husband and relatives, who had accompanied her.

Mrs. Bayne said that she had only desired to claim the girl because of her love for her. She admitted that she was the sister of Emma. Miss Hulse was released from the House of Detention, and is now at the home of her parents in this city.

AUCTION SALES TOMORROW.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, auctioneer, will sell at public auction on the premises at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, 3,800 acres of land with a number of buildings and improvements, lately used as a dairy farm by the High Point Plantation Co., at High Point, Fairfax county, including about 1,200 acres of valuable timber land; also a considerable lot of personal property, consisting of live stock, complete lot of modern farming implements, steamboat, gasoline launch, portable engine, scow, threshing machine, wagons, husks, ensilage cutter, etc. The steamer Dulka, of the High Point Plantation Co., will also be sold. The Dallas will leave Washington tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and stop at this city on her way down to transport such Alexandrians as may desire to bid at the sale.

Capt. R. F. Knox will sell at public auction at noon tomorrow in front of the Royal street entrance to the City Hall a lot of ground with the improvements thereon on the south side of Orconoco street, partly in Alexandria city and county. Capt. Knox will also sell at 3 o'clock p. m. on the premises two lots of ground on Mount Vernon avenue, in Alexandria county.

SAYS HE WAS SHANGHAIED.

Henry Thomas, a boat hand, was taken into Washington police court yesterday morning on the charge of disorderly conduct. While before Judge Calloway he told a tale of cruelty and hardship, alleging that he was shanghaied from Baltimore several weeks ago. Notwithstanding his story, the judge ordered he pay a fine of $5 for his offense. According to Henry he and several other men were set upon by several oyster boat captains in the neighborhood of the wharves in Baltimore, and dragged aboard one of the boats. For twenty days he was forced to endure all kinds of hardships, and was brutally treated and often beaten until unconscious. During this time he was fed on the poorest of food. When near Chantel Beach he managed to escape, swimming to the shore, sought shelter in the woods until he was able to obtain employment. After earning some money he took one of the river steamers for Washington.

NEW NORFOLK STEAMERS.

Mr. John Callahan, second vice president and general manager of the Norfolk and Washington line steamers, has sent to the leading shipbuilding firm on the Atlantic coast specifications and plans for the two new steamers which his line will have built during the coming winter in time for the opening of the summer travel of 1908. The new boats are to be 305 feet long over all, and 29 1/2 feet between perpendiculars. Their molded beam over guards is to be 51 feet, and they will be 27 feet 9 inches deep. They are to be very speedy, and will be handsomer in appointments, it is said, than any steamer now in port on Chesapeake bay. The boats are to have 152 staterooms, all supplied with running water, and several of the gallery rooms on the top deck will have bathrooms attached. No woodwork will be used in the construction of the steamers below the saloon deck, and the furnishings of the staterooms, so far as possible, will be of metal. The steamers it is said will make the run between this city and Norfolk well within ten hours, which is about two hours faster than any boat now in service on Chesapeake bay.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

In the case of S. H. Hawes & Co. against the W. R. Trigg Co., Judge Grinnan of the Chancery Court of Richmond decided on Monday the tug boats "Bristol" and "Chester," which were under construction for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the tug boat "Ospe Charles," which was likewise being built for the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad Company, by the Wm. R. Trigg Co., at the time of the appointment of the receiver in the above mentioned cause, were the properties respectively of the said railroad companies and are not subject to the claims of the "supply-lien" creditors of the Wm. R. Trigg Co. This decision is of much interest to the legal profession. Col. Francis L. Smith, of this city, represented the railroads in this case.

WILLS PROBATED.

The will of the late Mrs. Mary E. Lindsay was admitted to probate today and Mr. H. F. Robertson qualified as administrator with the will annexed. Mr. Robertson is the beneficiary under the will.

The will of the late James McWilliams was also admitted to probate today, and the brother of the deceased, Mr. John McWilliams, qualified as executor. The deceased left $100 to H. C. Steadman; $50 each to Gelia Milburn and Harriet Johnson and the remainder of his estate to his brother, John McWilliams, his sisters, Matilda and Margaret McWilliams, and his mother, Matilda McWilliams, share and share alike. The estate is valued at $10,000.

DEATH OF MRS. HILL.

Mrs. Elvira Hill, widow of John T. Hill, who had recently been critically ill, died at her home, 211 South Royal street, last night. Mrs. Hill was in her eighty-first year and had for many years been an invalid. She leaves three sons, Messrs. J. Marriott, Frank M., and Zoro Hill, and two daughters, Misses Mary E. and Hattie Hill. The deceased was a kind and thoughtful friend, and was greatly esteemed by all who knew her. Mrs. Hill's husband was in the Confederate service, and her home in Richmond during the civil war was headquarters for Confederates from Alexandria. Mrs. Hill was Miss Elvira Marriott and she was a native of Anne Arundel county, Md.

NEW PIER.

The work of excavating and building the cofferdam frame about the pier of the Aqueduct bridge is about completed and a pile driving machine which had been working on the Esplanade branch has been taken to the bridge and the driving of the sheet piling in the cofferdam was started. A large steam pump will keep the cofferdam free of water while the men are at work. Within the next two weeks it is thought that the men will be able to go down in the cofferdam and the foundations for the stone pier will be placed in position. The pier to be rebuilt on the Virginia side of the Aqueduct bridge and has been giving trouble for a number of years.
